THE SUGAR TRUST.

The Report of the Senate Investigating Committee

A MOST COMPLETE WHITEWASH

of All the Charges Made-The Com mittee Says That No Evidence Was Adduced Showing Any Unduo Influence or Bribery in the Matter of Sugar Tariff Logislation-The Newspaper Correspondents Are Severely Criticized.

Washington, D. C., August 2 .- Senator Gray, chairman of the sugar investigating committee, presented the report of the committee to the senate to day, and asked that the committee be discharged. The main report is signed by all the senators, but Senators Lodgo and Davis present a supplemental report, and Senator Allen also presents his own views on some features of the case. The report, which has the approval of the full committee, recites the causes which led up to the investigation, and quotes the article from the Philadelphia Press, on which the Philadelphia Press, on which the charges against sonators were based. It also recitos the facts which have been published already as to the refusal of the correspondont, Edwards, to answer queries put by the committee. Secretary Carlisle is exonerated, and the partsof the article reflecting on him are declared to be without foundation, "except that it is a fact, according to Secretary Carlisles" testimony, that he did, at the request of Senator Jones, of the finance committee, draft an amendment to the sugar schedule, a copy of which, as described by Mr. Carlisle, is attached as an exhibit to the testimony. The conduct of Mr. Edwards, says the report, in publishing specific charges against public men without having personal knowledge of the facts calls for the serious reprobation of the senate.

The committee also says: "There has been no testimony presented before rour committee, and your committee has been unable to discover any, tending to show that the sugar schedule was made up as it then stood in the proposed amendment to the tarlif bill, in consideration of any sums of money paid for campaign purposes of the Democratic party. No witnesses have testified before your committee that such was the fact, and all the Democratic members of the finance committee, and all the senators whose names have been mentioned in the public press as especimentation to the tarlibrone. charges against senators were based.

members of the finance committee, and members of the finance committee, and all the Democratic members of the finance committee, and all the senators whose names have been mentioned in the public press as especially interested in protecting the sugar refining industries, or in states where sugar refineries exist, have under out them to the such was the truth, or that they had any knowledge or information as to any sums of money, large or otherwise, having been paid for campaign purposes of the Democratic party by the sugar trust, by those connected with it, or by anybody as a consideration for favorable treatment of its interests by said party."

The committee also reports the substance of the testimony of the sugar rostners, asserting that the campaign contributions were inside only to the local committees and not for the purpose of influencing national campaigns, or for the purpose of securing, or getting national legislation. No other testimony has, the committee says, been offored, suggested or discovered, which would tend to support the statements of Edwards in this regard. Nor is there, they unite in saying, any evidence in support offthe statement that either of the susmer of 1892, or of 1893, in regard to them.

"On the contrary, it has been affirmatively shown," they say, "that the state-interest or the policy of the administration in regard to them."

islands, or any other singer in the policy of the administration in regard to them.

"On the contrary, it has been affirmatively shown," they say, "that the statement is untrue as to any such interview having occurred."

It is, the committee says, shown by the evidence that one or more officers of the sugar trust were in Washington and that they saw several sonators, generally those representing states in which sugar refineries were located with the view of influencing logislation, but these gentlemen deny the use of any improper means to that end.

The committee also unite in saying that no evidence has been adduced tending to show improper conduct on the part of those engaged in the framing of the sugar schedule in the tariff bill. "Though perhaps outside the scope of the duty imposed upon your committee," they say, "they take occasion to strongly deprecate the importunity and pressure to which Congress and its members are subjected by the ropresentatives of great industrial combinations, whose enormous wealth tends to suggest undue influence, and to create in the public mind a demoralizing belief in the existence of corrupt politics.
